The Princesses Cecile Auersperg and Sophie von Hanau of Austria, their work on aid humanitarian develops chiefly in Africa, where the families live in extreme poverty.

"When a group of people commit to make a difference by establishing an organization that educates, serves, challenges, or enriches the lives of others in specific ways, through specific means in order to achieve specific results, that's called the organization's mission. Founders of organizations establish the mission, it's "reason for being." Those that follow build on that foundation and extend the reach of the organization's programs.

The Jungle Medic Missions

Jungle Medic Missions worked with students from Louisiana State University Medical School and they did a wonderful job seeing patients in Guatemala. One of the student even got to deliver a baby and did great! Despite some long hard rides in the Medical Bus, no one complained and they had a great time helping people.
